IS INCORPORATED.

White Mountain Paper Company Files Articles.

W. B. Plunkett Of Adams, Mass., To Be President.

Capital Stock Of $15,000,000 Under New Jersey Laws.

New York, Oct. 29.—Articles of incorporation have been filed in Jersey City of the White Mountain Paper company, capital stock $15,000,000.

The incorporators are John T. Morgan, George H. Hansel and John Milton Ferry of New York.

This company is said to own about 625 square miles of woodland in New Hampshire and Maine.

It is proposed to build a book and printing paper mill at Portsmouth, having a capacity of 500 tons a day.

The woodlands have been in the market for some time, and a syndicate has finally acquired control.

It is composed of the following: W. B. Plunkett of Adams, Mass.; W. C. Whiting of Holyoke, Mass.; A. C. Barnes of New York; Col. J. J. McCook of New York and G. B. James of Boston.

It is probable that Mr. Plunkett will be elected president of the new company.

FOR CIVIL WAR EXPENSES.

Concord, Oct. 29.—Col. Solon Carter, state treasurer, when shown a Washington despatch this morning to the effect that the claim of $122,047, for equipping troops for the civil war, had been allowed by the court of claims, said that the amount was mainly for interest on notes and bonds issued by authority of the state legislature under an act passed in 1861, to raise money to equip the troops raised in this state for duty in the south. The amount of notes and bonds issued under authority of the act was $1,412,591.11, and for this expenditure the state has received at various times from the United States government the sum of $972,352.08.

For a time the United States refused to consider claims presented by the various states for interest on the principal amounts expended for equipping the troops, but some time ago New York put in a claim of this character, and it was allowed by the United States court of claims. This established a precedent which was taken advantage of by claimants, and one of the first acts of the late Gov. Ramsdell was to appoint an agent to prosecute the claims of New Hampshire before the court.

The amount due the state in interest on the several note and bond issues under the act of 1861, at that time was figured at $780,369.68. By figuring off the interest on claims presented by the state and heretofore paid by the general government the amount was reduced to $122,047. Treasurer Carter is of the opinion that special legislation by congress will be necessary before the money can be turned over.

A BOTTLE-NOSE WHALE.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 29.—A few days ago a 21-foot bottle-nose whale was captured off this port and towed into the harbor, where it was proposed to exhibit the monster.

The officials of the Smithsonian Institution at Washington were notified of the catch, and this morning Mr. Scollie, a representative of the institution, arrived and inspected the carcass, which was photographed, and then the flesh will be stripped and the skeleton prepared for shipment to Washington. The party who hooked the whale will be amply awarded by the government.

RUMOR OF MISS STONE'S DEATH NOT CONFIRMED.

HE CAN COME.

Not a Bigamist in This Country and Earl Russell Will Be Allowed to Land.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—H. A. Taylor, assistant secretary of the treasury, has taken action to prevent the immigration officials from excluding from this country Earl Russell, convicted by the English house of Lords as a bigamist and compelled to serve sentence in a British prison.

According to the ruling of Mr. Taylor, Earl Russell will not be barred out of the United States as a convict, as he obtained a divorce in Dakota before remarrying, and is not guilty of bigamy in the eyes of the American government.

The office of the commissioner of immigration recently received a letter from Horace J. Smith of Philadelphia, who called attention to the trip of Earl Russell to America. Mr. Smith, it is said, is a relative of the earl's divorced wife. He wanted to bring out the fact that under the United States, Earl Russell should be denied admission because convicted of a crime involving moral turpitude, and he referred to the act of congress of March 3, 1891, as governing the case.

The immigration inspectors at various ports of entry were advised to submit the matter to a board of special inquiry should the necessity arise.

Mr. Taylor, upon hearing of the matter, directed the immigration authorities to recall the letter from the port inspectors. Mr. Taylor said that, according to newspaper accounts, Earl Russell was free under the laws of the United States to contract a second marriage. Earl Russell was divorced in Dakota, and was therefore at liberty to remarry, no matter what the English courts had to say. Mr. Taylor said the department does not believe that Earl Russell is guilty of an infamous crime "involving moral turpitude" in the sense of the act of March 3, 1891.

MORE SMALLPOX VICTIMS.

Board of Health Discovers Seven New Cases in Various Parts of the City.

Boston, Oct. 29.—For the twenty-four hours ending at noon today seven new cases of smallpox were reported to the board of health. Three of the cases, a mother and two daughters, were found in Vinton street, South Boston. One of the daughters was convalescent. She had been sick with the disease three weeks, and it was from her that her mother and sister took the disease.

In a house on Compton street a father was found convalescing from the disease, and his seventeen and three-year-old children, both of whom were unvaccinated, showed well developed smallpox.

The seventh case is that of a man residing on Orchard street, Roxbury, who has been sick since last Friday. These cases bring the total for the current year up to 104.

NO MORE DANCING.

A Hard Blow to Society in the Vicinity of the New York Navy Yard.

There will be no dances at the New York navy yard this winter. Rear Admiral Barker has so decided, and the young officers are disconsolate. It was the custom last year to give semi-weekly "hops" in building No. 23, and before that for twenty years in that building and building No. 7. The discontinuance of these enjoyable features is particularly distressing this year because the Vermont is out of commission, and there is no room on the Columbia, which takes her place, to hold dances. In former years the arrangement was for a "hop" every other Friday afternoon on the Vermont, and evening dances on the intervening Fridays in the main yard. The navy yard officers were thus enabled to return courtesies extended to them by foreign officers who visited this port. It is said that Admiral Barker is opposed to the use of the yard for anything in the way of pleasure. The gallant young officers are not the only ones to be disappointed by the edict. There being a dearth of officers' daughters at the yard, the "hops" have always been attended by many society belles from Brooklyn and Manhattan. When most of the ships were at the yard in January it was the custom to have a special reception and dance, and this will be sadly missed.

PROBING STILL.

Admiral Schley Unruffled By String Of Questions.

His Story Well Connected And Full Of Details.

Shows His Deep Insight Of The Conditions Of His Fleet.

Washington, Oct. 29.—As soon as the Schley court of inquiry was opened today, Judge Advocate Lemly continued his interrogations of Admiral Schley. The cruise from Cienfuegos to Santiago was again brought up, and questions were asked relating to the condition of the weather on May 25 and 26, the dates of the voyage.

Capt. Lemly also reverted to the detaching of the Eagle from the flying squadron, and brought the witness to the consideration of several minor details of that movement before coming to the meeting with scout boats twenty-five miles south of Santiago on the evening of May 26, when the retrograde movement toward Key West in search of coal was begun.

The intention was to go into this retrograde movement later in the day, and also to consider in minute detail the reconnaissance of May 31, the coaling question, and the famous loop of the Brooklyn on July 3.

Capt. Lemly was hopeful of completing his questioning today, but admitted that the outlook in that direction was not altogether promising.

As on yesterday, Admiral Schley was calm in his demeanor and deliberate in his answers, apparently weighing all questions carefully before replying.

Before resuming the cross-examination of Admiral Schley, Judge Advocate Lemly announced that, with the assent of counsel for the other side, the signal books of the New York for May 18 and 19 and July 2 and 3, and the Brooklyn's for May 18 to June 2, inclusive, and July 2 and 3, would be included in the record. He explained that May 18 and 19 were the day before and the day on which the New York left Key West.

Going back to the Adula's appearance at Cienfuegos, Capt. Lemly asked about the war bulletin brought by that vessel and asked if it had not stated that the Spanish fleet had left there on May 20. This the witness admitted was true, as he did also that he had said that the distance from Cienfuegos to Santiago was from thirty-six to forty-eight hours.

Then Capt. Lemly asked: "Would not the fact that from thirty-six to forty-eight hours was necessary to covering this distance have brought the Spaniards to Cienfuegos after your arrival there?"

"I did not wish to be understood that that time would have been necessary for the Spaniards to make the voyage. I meant simply to give the time consumed by the flying squadron in making the voyage."

Reverting to the blockade of Cienfuegos, Capt. Lemly asked how he estimated the distance of the blockading fleet to be between three and four miles from shore.

"In the day time I took a bow and beam bearing. This, together with the surf and the land seemed to confirm that that distance was correct."

The witness in answer to another question by Capt. Lemly said he had plotted the distance on a chart for his own information. He did not know this would ever become a matter of such importance, otherwise he should have kept the memorandum, as he would have kept a great many other things.

Admiral Schley said he kept a close watch by day and at night while awake, while off Cienfuegos. He said he had seen no auxiliary cruiser or gunboat near the entrance to the harbor, as testified to by Lieut. Griffin. The witness had an indistinct recollection of having seen the mast, or perhaps the top of a pipe, over the hills. He saw nothing larger coming near the mouth of the harbor than an ordinary steam launch.

In response to a request from Capt. Lemly, Admiral Schley read extracts from the Brooklyn's log, with the view of showing that the admiral's memory had been at fault when he had stated that the fleet was closer in at night than during the day. The admiral had also testified that the set of the current was toward the shore. The log showed that at various times the squadron had steamed in as well as out.

WAR CLAIMS OF STATES.

Maine is to Receive $131,587 and New Hampshire $122,047 from the Government.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 29.—The United States court of claims rendered judgments today in the cases of several states having disputed accounts with the government for equipping troops with Spain. The judgment in favor of Pennsylvania is for $1,066,470, with several deductions, making the net amount about $600,000. Maine receives a judgment for $131,587, and New Hampshire one for $122,047.

A DAILY NUISANCE.

A Simple Catarrh Remedy Which Will Interest Catarrh Sufferers.

In its earlier stages catarrh is more of a nuisance than a menace to the general health, but sooner or later, the disease extends to the throat, bronchial tubes and even to the stomach and intestines.

Catarrh is essentially a disease of the mucous membrane, the local symptoms being a profuse discharge of mucus, stoppage of the nostrils, irritation in throat, causing coughing, sneezing, gagging and frequent clearings of the throat and head.

The usual treatment by local douches, snuffs, salves, etc., often gives temporary relief, but anything like a cure can only be obtained by a treatment which removes the catarrhal taint from the blood and the disappearance of the inflammation from the mucous surface.

A new remedy which meets these requirements and which so far has been remarkably successful in curing catarrh is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets.

These tablets act upon the blood and mucous membranes only. They can hardly be called a secret patent medicine as they are composed of such valuable remedies as Sanguinaria, Hydrastis, Eucalyptol and similar cleansing antiseptics which cure by eliminating from the blood and mucous surfaces the catarrhal poison.

Stuart's Catarrh Tablets are large, pleasant tasting lozenges taken internally, allowing them to dissolve slowly in the mouth, in this way they reach the throat, fauces and the entire alimentary canal.

If desired, they may also be dissolved in water and used as a douche, in addition to the internal use, but it is not at all necessary to use a douche; a few of them dissolved in the mouth daily will be sufficient. However, when there is much stoppage of the nose, a douche made from these tablets will give immediate relief, but the regular daily use internally of these tablets will cure the whole catarrhal trouble without resorting to the inconvenience of a douche.

Dr. Bement states "that the internal treatment for catarrh is rapidly taking the place of the old plan of douching, and local application and further says that probably the best and certainly the safest remedy at present on the market is Stuart's Catarrh Tablets, as no secret is made of their composition and all the really efficient remedies for catarrh are contained in this tablet."

Druggists sell Stuart's Catarrh Tablets at fifty cents for full sized packages. Ask your druggist and if he is honest he will tell you there is no safer, more palatable, more efficient and convenient remedy on the market.

REMAINS TO BE SENT HOME TO SPAIN.

Havana, Oct. 29.—The remains of the Spanish Vice Admiral Villamil, commander of the Spanish torpedo flotilla, who was killed in the battle of Santiago, was transferred today to the steamer Montserrat to be taken to Spain. The ceremony of transferring was in charge of Captain of the Port Young, representing the United States navy. A salute of nine guns was fired from Morro Castle.

Training

Is indispensable to athletic success. In training, much stress is laid upon diet; careful attention to the quantity and quality of the food eaten, with regularity of meals.

That is the secret of strength for every man. No man can be stronger than his stomach. The careless and irregular eating, of business men, causes disease of the stomach and its allied organs of digestion and nutrition. There can be no sound health until these diseases are cured.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and enables the body to be built up into vigorous health by the assimilation of the nutrition extracted from food.

"I was taken with the grippe, which resulted in heart and stomach trouble," writes Mr. T. R. Caullill, of Montclair, Allegheny Co., N. C. "It was under the influence of a good part of the time. I wrote to Dr. Pierce about my condition, having full confidence in his medicine. He advised me to take his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' which I did. Before I had finished the second bottle I began to feel better. I have used nearly six bottles. I feel thankful to God for the benefit I have received from Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I can highly recommend it to all persons as a good and safe medicine."

Nashua, Oct. 29.—This morning Mayor Taylor had the city solicitor make out a warrant for the arrest of the missing city clerk, Alfred A. Hall, on the ground of embezzlement, and place it in the hands of the police for service. Hall's shortage will be about $2000.

BUFFALO BILL UPSET.

Washington, Oct. 29.—"Buffalo Bill's" show train had a head-on collision at Longwood, N. C., today with a freight.

The master of the show train was badly hurt and the engineer and fireman of the same train received slight injuries.

About 100 of Buffalo Bill's horses were killed.

The Small of the Back

That is where some people feel weak all the time.

They are likely to be despondent and it is not unusual to find them borrowing trouble as if they hadn't enough already.

The fact is their kidneys are weak, either naturally or because of sickness, exposure, worry or other influences.

"I am thankful to say," writes J. L. Campbell, of Sycamore, Ill., "that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured me. For many years I was troubled with backache. At times I was so bad I had to be helped from the bed or chair. I am now well and strong and free from pain. What this great medicine did for him he has done for others."

IN PORTSMOUTH MARKETS.

But a Few Changes in the Prices From a Week Ago.

There are but few changes in the local retail market since last week.

Vegetables generally remain at cents a pound. Pumpkins, squash and onions are a little higher than this figure, the first two being at 3 cents a pound and the last from four to five.

Pumpkins and squash are very scarce this year and the supply does not near fill the local demand, to say nothing of leaving any to ship away to the canning factories which are practically shut off from these vegetables this year.

The strings of dried pumpkins and apples that used to be seen festooning the country groceries are not seen now. Canned goods have driven the dry article out of the market.

Ripe tomatoes are all gone, as the frost killed the vines several weeks ago. The demand continues good until the last one was brought in and the grocers have frequent calls for them now. A few green tomatoes for pickling are still left at 20 cents a peck.

Irish potatoes are quite plentiful now. The prices, however, remain at 25 cents a peck, 90 cents a bushel.

Yellow eyed beans are easier, as this year's crop is beginning to come in. They have dropped to 12 cents. Common pea beans are at 10 cents and California pea, at 15 cents a quart.

Sweet potatoes are still plentiful at twelve pounds for 25 cents, but are beginning to rot some. Cauliflower is 18 cents a head. Peppers are at 11 cents a pound. Pop corn is at 6 cents a pound. Celery is from 15 to 18 cents a bunch. Native leaf sage retails at 5 cents an ounce.

Twenty cents a peck is the bottom figure on apples and they run as high as 35 cents a peck. Good eating pears are 25 to 40 cents a dozen, but native by the peck for both eating and preserving come somewhat cheaper. S. S. kels are at 15 cents a quart. Peaches are selling for 25 and 30 cents a dozen. Oranges remain at 35 to 75 cents. Quinces are at 50 cents a peck and citron at 30 cents a pound. Lemons are 25 and 30 cents a dozen. Malaga grapes are at 15 to 25 cents a pound with Tokays at 15 cents a pound, two pounds for 25 cents. Niagaras and Salons remain at 20 cents a basket and Concord at 15 cents, but Delawares have gone down to 20 cents a basket. New dates are at 10 cents a pound, three pounds for a quarter and new figs are 20 and 25 cents a peck. Cranberries remain at 10 cents a quart, three quarts for a quarter. Chestnuts are now at 10 cents a peck.

In meats pork is quoted a little easier. The prices are 13 cents a pound for chop and 13 for rib. Salt pork is 12 and 13 cents. Chickens and fowl remain where they were last week: the former at 20 cents a pound and the latter at 16. Lamb forequarters are 9 to 13 cents a pound and hind quarters at 13 with chop at 11 to 16. Beef is at 20 cents for rump and porterhouse and 16 cents for round. Corned beef is from 6 to 12 cents a pound. Ham and bacon remain from 18 to 20 cents. Lard is at 14 cents a pound.

Eggs are scarcer than ever, only storage being in the market in any quantity on Monday. Some dealers were paying as high as 30 cents at wholesale.

Dairy butter stays at 27 cents as prime creamery at 30 cents. Cheese remains at 18.

Native honey is at 25 cents a pound in the comb.

In the fish market mackerel remains at 16 cents a pound. Lobsters were down to 15 cents Monday. Bass are at 14. Halibut at 20 and cod at 10 cents a pound.

The first smelts of the season were seen Monday at 12 cents a pound, that being about the figure asked when they are in the height of the season. Two grades of finnan haddie are offered, Boston at 10 cents a pound and Portland at 12 cents. The latter are much better and more economical to buy even at the slightly higher figure. Providence river oysters are at 45 cents a quart and blue points at 35 cents. The latter are not very good so far this season.

NECK WAS BLACK AND BLUE.

Body of a Man About Fifty Years Old Found by a Life Saver at Plum Island and Monday Night.

Newburyport, Oct. 23.—Medical Examiner Hurd visited Plum Island this morning and examined the body found by one of the life saving station men last night. It was clothed in a suit of new clothing, including hat and shoes.

The victim was about fifty years old, five feet, eight inches tall and of medium weight. About his neck were black and blue spots and also upon his wrists and ankles. These are not considered significant of foul play, in the opinion of the medical examiner. A man answering the above description was seen on the spot where the body was found. The man had evidently been drowned ten days.

FORESTRY AND PAPER.

The White Mountain Paper Co. Furnishes Encouragement to Friends of Forests.

Editor of the Herald:—The self-styled friends of forest preservation, i. e., those persons who believe that all forest properties should be held absolutely free from the axe, no matter what the forest conditions may be, and who therefore think nature's reproductive forces should be allowed to go to waste, will regard the White Mountain Paper company's investment of $25,000,000 as a deed of pure vandalism, having as its most obvious purpose the complete denudation of a large forest area for immediate personal profit. On the other hand the sane hysteric friends of forest preservation will regard the matter with less alarm. The immense capitalization of the White Mountain Paper company affords the best evidence of the perpetuity of the forest lands which the company owns. Men do not invest $25,000,000 in short-lived industries. The life of a paper mill depends upon the extent and character of the forest land which supplies its raw material and upon the manner in which that land is managed. With rational forest management the White Mountain Paper company can look forward to an endless supply of material for its mills, and it is reasonable to suppose that the company has made its great investment with that end in view.

This supposition is supported by the facts in the case. For more than a year I have had knowledge of the plans which have now culminated in the formation of the White Mountain Paper company, and I am familiar with the forest lands which the company will control in this state. The purpose of the company as its promoters have set forth to me, is to manage their lands so as to insure the reproduction of the desirable species. Accordingly the company is to have a corps of skilled foresters who will lay out the lumbering operations to the best advantage for the enlightened self-interest of the owners.

Such of the land which the company has laid idle for a long time as will be needed to be cut over in accordance with the principles of rational management. It is the further purpose of the company, as I am informed, to utilize the forest by products of their hands to increase their profits and also, by reason of utilizing that which so many leave in the forest as debris of lumbering operations, to diminish the danger of serious fire.

All this, it may be permissible to add, is wholly in line with the labor of the New Hampshire forestry commission, which have been directed no so much to an alarm propaganda, ending to induce the impression that our forests have been despoiled and are therefore no longer either scenically attractive to tourists or economically attractive to capitalists, as to induce among land owners the view that their forests are capable, under intelligent direction of furnishing a never-ending supply of raw material for a superior quality. To this view many of the more progressive owners of forest land are now committed and two of the largest corporations which make use of forests products employ trained foresters to supervise their logging operations. To the same few their competitors must conform or submit to be driven out of business by their own folly, which condition we are striving to make clear.

In this connection it may be worth noting that the forest controlled by the White Mountain Paper company is not, as stated, "one-fifth of the total area of New Hampshire." The area of the state is substantially 10,000 square miles. The White Mountain Paper company owns 400,000 acres or 625 square miles, of which 60,000 acres are in Maine.

G. H. MOSES, Secretary Forestry Commission. Colebrook, Oct. 26.

The supply ship Glacier has sailed from Townville for Glacie, the gunboat Nina from Delaware Breakwater for New York, the gunboat Helena from Pusan for Chefoo, the battleship Kentucky (flag ship) from Woo-Sung for Nanking, and the cruiser New York (flag ship) from Catbalogan, Samar, for Cavite.

The torpedo boat Dupont has been placed in reserve at Norfolk.

CHILDREN'S COLUMN.

A Queer Horse.

Prescott is a town in Wisconsin with not more than 1,000 inhabitants, not counting its dachshund horse, which is its oldest and most noted resident. The body of this queer little horse is as large as usual, but its double jointed legs are only 18 inches long. It is a 3-year-old, and its sire and dam are regularly formed, weighing about 2,280 pounds each, while their frisky offspring is only 650 pounds in weight. Its disposition is as gentle as that of Mary's little lamb or her Shetland pony. It looks just as solemn as the dog after which so many jokes have been flung. It is sure of an easy time in life, with nothing to do but to let wondering countrymen who flock to George Cook's farm gaze at it. When it trots, the combination of the patter patter of the quickstep and the long body stretching out so close to the ground is comical enough to make a man laugh.

The tall and mane of the new breed of horse reach the ground, being especially long even when considering the abbreviated legs. A slight deformity in the head attracts interest, but does not give an ill look to the front.

Germany gave to the world one of the most mirth producing of beasts, the dachshund dog, and Wisconsin has had the honor of adding to the variety of nations by turning out the dachshund horse.

In selecting a place for a poultry yard choose a light, sandy soil.

A heavy clay soil is always damp and unless care is taken will always favor roup.

A cock or hen that is too fat is not in physical condition to transmit all the good qualities necessary for healthy offspring.

A week or ten days of careful feeding before sending to market would often add much to the quality and insure better prices.

Have all the internal arrangements of the poultry house movable, so that when it is desired to clean they can all be taken out.

When desired to fatten the fowls, feed corn and other grains which contain fattening elements. For general feeding give a variety of grains.

When you begin to feed fowls for market, separate them from the ones intended to be kept for future use on the farm, as they should not have fattening food.

Books Boys Should Read.

Child life, like grown life, has its troubles, and the refuge is in the imagination. Let the mind be exercised in the best books, and the escape will be into a holy land. The liking for works of the imagination should then be cultivated as a normal growth, not killed as a weed. Boyhood furnishes out with resources for pleasure and an escape from care, the best works of the imagination are better than most historical composition. They make other times living and real and are as little likely to mislead us as history is, which by its selections and evasions has as often been the handmaid of falsehood as of fact-history, which so loves the mountain peaks and so seldom teaches the lowlands. In the great writers, always and everywhere, sin comes up for judgment before a jury of the peers of the realm, and righteous indignation in some way not always paid as at first its reward. The writer holds the balance even. He has gone over the evidence for us, and his decision is as clear as is that of the chief justice. What do we care what the March of Scottish history was when Shakespeare has drawn the Machbeth of all the generations? The great writer is the student of emotions, passions, principles, of which wars and constitutional amendments are only the dry recorded results.—Professor Morse in Harper's Bazar.

Spinsters in Clover.

In Denmark there's a premium on spinsterhood. A certain insurance company has been formed, and between an insurance policy and a husband a Danish maiden is not with indecision. If the holder of a policy in the company is still unmarried at 40, she is considered immune and gets a life annuity. If she marries before 40, she forfeits her policy and premiums. In Sweden and Norway there are several old maids' homes, and at least one of them is a most attractive institution. A very wealthy man, dying more than 200 years ago, left most of his fortune to the old maids among his descendants.

A superb home was built and furnished and managed by salaried trustees. An old maid who was given a life annuity to the founder of the institution is entitled to a place in the home. She has a private suit of robes, a private servant, private meals and is subject to no rules save such as ordinary good behavior demands.

The Guestroom.

The day has gone by when the guest has the pleasantest room in the house. Now the mother's room and the living room occupy the favored parts, while less desirable quarters are given to the drawing room and the guest chamber. Said a young housewife in reply to a remonstrance from her husband when she chose for her own room the prettiest in the house: "I may come to love my neighbor as myself, but I can never hope to love her 25 times as well. That I should certainly have to do if I devote this room to her use for the one night that she will average in our house in a year, while I should be living in an undesirable room the remaining 361."

Table Linen.

It is almost as essential that table and bed linen shall be properly hung out as that they shall be well washed. If they are allowed to dry out of shape, stretching and pulling them straight wears them much more than use. Hang tablecloths and sheets evenly across the line, ends down. The warp threads are much stronger than the weft. If stretched horizontally lengthwise, the things will split along the fold. Indeed, everything washable lasts longer if hung to dry so that the weight while wet comes mainly upon the long way threads.

A Postmistress General.

Few people have ever heard of a postmistress general, but one did exist and so long ago as the early part of the eighteenth century. The Countess Gildenore, or Dorothea Krag as she was known officially, was a Dane, and she filled the office of postmistress general in her native land from 1703 to 1711. Her methods were somewhat crude, but from them have sprung the present postal system of that country, which are perhaps the best in the world.

Move Your Bed from the Wall.

Among the rules given by a physician to promote longevity is one forbidding the placing of the bed against the wall, says the Jacksonville Times-Union and Citizen. This is in accord with the advice of another scientist, who demonstrated some time ago that the layer of air within a few inches of the wall of the average bedroom, with no ventilator but the window, is not disturbed by that draft.

Another Prophecy.

An assemblage of bloomer clad ladies dined together on Jan. 1, 1851, in New York. Speeches were delivered and prophecies made that the second half of the century would witness the emancipation of woman and the reform of her dress and that before the eighteen hundreds had run out the petticoat would be universally shed. The prophecy has not been quite fulfilled.

Girls' Feet.

"Girls between the ages of 16 and 18 generally have big feet," said a fashionable shoemaker, "and they are at such periods of their lives disposed to be fat and flabby, but at 22 a remarkable change takes place. The foot then completely subsides, the flabbiness disappears, the flesh of the foot becomes firmer, the muscles and tendons get stronger and the bones become well set. Altogether a great difference is noticeable."

"Yes, we have great difficulty with girls of about 17 or thereabouts, for then they require a shoe large as a full grown woman. When they get older and the foot becomes settled, new boots made to the old last will be found too large, and it is only when the young ladies complain that their new shoes are too big that we know the foot has undergone the change just described. Then explanations have to be given, but the shoemaker doesn't mind that so much, for a woman as she grows older likes to be told that her foot is getting smaller."

"After 40 the feet of a woman go back to the fat and flabby state, and herein grows the trouble of the shoemaker, who has to state in explanation why the last pair of shoes do not fit that the cause lies in the fact that her feet are getting bigger."

"No, I don't think that cycling increases the size of a girl's foot. True, one or two of our lady customers have asked us to make their new boots a shade larger, but this difficulty is got over by making them 'full.' We have never altered the length."—Washington Star.

A FITTING TRIBUTE.

The following public statement of a respected citizen adds one more emphatic endorsement of merit to the scores that have appeared before.

Mrs. Eva Muchmore of No. 20 State street says:—"Doan's Kidney Pills did more than help me. They cured me. I was suffering intensely from pain in the back and lameness in my joints, and no one could have made me believe that I would get such immense relief. I had a great deal of trouble with my kidneys. At one time I was given up by the physicians who said I was in the last stages of Bright's disease. I recovered, but my kidneys have always been in poor shape. I got the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Philbrick's pharmacy in Congress street. They drove away the gnawing pain, and lessened the soreness in the small of my back. Doan's Kidney Pills are most effective in kidney troubles."

It is not "dictators" or the reactionary militarism for which they stand that Spain needs, but Weyler gives sign that that obnoxious and dangerous insect is still buzzing in his busy brain when he talks of a dictatorship as a possibility and broadly intimates his willingness in certain contingencies to accept it and to take the part of the army against the state. If Spain is ever to get off the ledge and into the open sea of prosperity, progress it will be by turning her back on those military dreams that have been the curse of Spanish-American countries, and that in the case of Spain itself, with a defeated army and no navy at all, are fantastic absurdity now. Doubtless the minister of war would make a thoroughgoing job of it if over the guns of the soldiery were turned on the people; he is not troubled by scruples and he is careless of personal popularity and complacent of his "butcher's" reputation. What the Iberian kingdom needs is development of its latent commercial and industrial possibilities, discouragement of overweening clerical influence, and real patriotism and integrity in the conduct of its political parties. None of these Weylerism can promise: all of them it opposes.

THEATRICAL NEWS

OUR NEW MINISTER TONIGHT.

Denman Thompson and George W. Ryer bring back their delightful comedy-drama, Our New Minister, to Music hall tonight for its annual engagement. It is now in its second year of success. There remains but little to be said of this play or its performance; it is a realistic picture of New England life in a small rural community, which has for its charm not more in the life represented than in its representation. It will improve with age. Like wine, and public appreciation will grow stronger with longer experience. It is a play, which, for many reasons one cannot afford not to have seen. Personally its effect is satisfying, the story is absorbing, though simple; its very simplicity enthralles one; its characters fasten themselves upon the credulity and affection, and its effect is deliciously refreshing and bettering that one craves for very joy. Mr. Thompson and Mr. Ryer in their text and action reproduce the absolutely natural without succumbing to the inevitable commonplace.

"He says he likes to jolly the jays."

Our New Minister is, first of all, and above all, an American play, racy of the soil. The scene is laid in a small New England village, called Hardscrabble, and its Yankee flavor is pronounced and unmistakable. The real Yankee humor and the real Yankee dialect are there, and with this delightful compound there is blended a tender sentiment and a genuine pathos. Our New Minister has no low comedy scenes and situations. There is no horse play, but, on the contrary, every character and situation is natural, and a strong current of humanity flows through it all.

NEXT FRIDAY EVENING.

One of the most notable dramatic events of the present season in this city will be the appearance of that brilliant actress, Sadie Martinot, in her new play by Clyde Fitch entitled The Marriage Game. In the stellar character of this play, Miss Martinot has a part which fits her better than any she has appeared in during her career. She plays it skilfully and artistically, and invests it with a delicate satirical quality and finesse that makes it sparkle like champagne. Martinot's work in this difficult characterization is said to be a revelation, and to stamp her as one of the greatest present day emotional actresses. In The Marriage Game Mr. Fitch has displayed his most daring treatment of a delicate subject, and invested it with a dramatic thrill seldom seen in a society play, but in contrast with the intense sodas, there is in the plot and underlying its main interest, a delicious and faithful picture of real old-fashioned English life in the country, which seems to carry across the footlights into the minds of the audience an atmosphere of staidness, dignity and warm loving humanity that goes far to counteract the sprightliness and cutting wit of some of the more worldly scenes. The Duke and Duchess of Montrose are two of the most lovable characters this talented playwright has yet given stage life. The production will be seen here with this same magnificent cast and all the elaborate scenic investiture and handsome appointments which characterized the Boston engagement. At Music hall next Friday evening.

MILDRED HOLLAND.

Mildred Holland's successful to mantle play, The Power Behind the Throne, in which she is to appear at Music hall on November 2nd, is founded on Schiller's classic Love and Intuition, and presents a picture of the end of the eighteenth century in an American principality.

It tells a story of the time when the ruling prince was all powerful throughout his domain, and his representatives but little less so; when the nobility with impunity trampled under foot the rights of the common people, when vice flourished unrebuked among the higher classes, and the honor of men and the chastity of women were lightly held; when the lower classes had to redress against the persecutions of their superiors, whose word was law, and whose interest whim or caprice might prove a matter of life and death to whomsoever opposed it. In such a world lived Aria, the heroine of the play; daughter of a musician, she was loved by a noble baron and loved him in return. Unfortunately, the Duchess Von Waldheim, favorite of the reigning prince, became infatuated with the baron, and intrigued to destroy his love for Aria by compromising her in his eyes. In this the duchess was aided by the whole machinery of the petty court in which she reigned, and by the father of the baron. Aria's parents were thrown into prison and threatened with death. These seeming proofs of Aria's perfidy proved too strong for the baron's faith in her. Believing Aria faithless, he denounced her, and requested the hand of the duchess in marriage. Later, however, his love for Aria conquered, and he visits her with the intention of ending both their lives with poison. Under the influence of the drug, and believing death near at hand, Aria confesses the deception she was compelled to practice, and they apparently die together. It is finally disclosed that the supposed poison was a sleeping powder substituted by the baron's orderly.

The principal members of Miss Holland's support are Lillian Norris, Rita O'Neal, Camille Porter, Tillie Thompson, Rose Gadsby, Wright M. Lorimer, Samuel Lewis, Wm. H. Pendergast, Del De Lewis, Ellis McClellan, Kenneth Davidson, Edward R. Lewis and a number of others.

WITH THE THEATRICAL FOLK.

One report says that May Irwin will retire from the stage, another that she will revive The Widow Jones.

Denman Thompson's appearance at the Boston theatre next month will be his sixteenth annual engagement there.

Robert Edeson will star next season in a dramatization by Augustus Thomas of Richard Harding Davis's novel, "Soldiers of Fortune."

According to the Dramatic Mirror John F. Byrne of Eight Bells has been spending some months in New Hampshire. He will observe the twenty-fifth anniversary of his stage life on Nov. 8.

The new opera company which is to occupy the Bijou theatre at Boston will include Clara Lane, Selma Korold, Olive Thorne, Hattie Belle Ladd, Frances Wilson, J. K. Murray, George Shields, Herbert Wilke, James Gilbert, John Henderson, George Tallman and Thomas Boyd.

NAVAL NEWS AND NOTES.

It is possible that Rear Admiral Sampson will go upon the retired list permanently, perhaps about December 3.

A difficulty in securing competent messmen in the navy is to be met, it is proposed, by allowing blue-jackets who serve on that duty the extra compensation of $5 per month, except when men are assigned as relief during temporary absence of the regular messmen. One messman will be allowed to each submess of 20 men on board ships of war.

Brig. Gen. Charles Heywood, U. S. M. C., enjoys the enviable distinction of holding the oldest commission of any officer in the naval service, his commission as second lieutenant in the marine corps bearing date of April 5, 1858. General Heywood was born Oct. 3, 1839, and is consequently in his sixty-third year at the present time. He retired Oct. 3, 1903, on reaching the age of sixty-four. The compulsory retiring age in the marine corps is the same as that in the army.

The navy department will adopt an emergency ration for landing parties and for use in "abandon ship" and "arm and away" drills. There are condensed foods for these occasions and

FOR OLD AGE

To the old, as to babies, the even balance of health is more important than anything else in the world. The possible health, in age, is not high and strong; it is only even.

There is no end, but death, to the trouble that comes of its loss.

It ought to be watched like a baby's.

Their future is short; but oh how it turns on comfort! on whether the wrinkles are wrinkles of pain or of long serene enjoyment!

SCOTT & BOWNE, 409 Pearl street, New York.

It is believed that the use of that ration would obviate the loss of provisions resulting from injury to packages incident to frequent rough handling. The army has found its emergency ration is as necessary in the navy as with the troops. The suggestion has come from the naval ration board and finds favor generally in the service.

The navy department is in receipt of the records in a remarkable case of two enlisted men in the navy who were tried before courts martial on the Asiatic station by order of Rear Admiral Remy. The charge in each case included the rare one of mutiny and the culprits were Landsman William Hathorn and Seaman Cecil S. Powell. They were charged with disobeying the lawful orders of officers, being disrespectful in deportment, uttering mutinous words and mutiny. Both men were found guilty of all the charges. The sentence in each case was ten years' confinement at hard labor, the loss of all pay during that time except $3 per month for necessary prison expenses and the further sum of $20 to be paid at the expiration of the term of confinement, and dishonorable discharge from the service. In Hathorn's case the loss of pay amounted to $1,540 and in the case of Powell $2,500. Rear Admiral Remy reduced the period of confinement to seven years, making the loss of pay in Hathorn's case $1,013 and in Powell's case $1,744. The men are to be brought back to the United States to serve out their terms of imprisonment.

BEATS THE KRAG RIFLE.

Gen. Buffington, chief of ordnance, in his annual report argues strongly against the detail system, so far as concerns his own department. He points to the cultivation by European countries of special ordnance experts, as showing the necessity for making this service a life work. He also urges the complete equipment of the national guard with the Krag-Jorgensen. He says that this rifle has met with approval, but he has not been content with that, and has made a sample rifle, much simpler, cheaper and stronger, which will give a ball velocity of 200 feet per second more than the existing model and will be equipped with a rod bayonet.

Gen. Buffington objects to sensational reports in the press of the want of a store of smokeless powders. He says there is an abundant supply.

PHILIPPINE CUSTOMS.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The division of insular affairs of the war department today made public a comparative statement which shows that the total customs revenue for the seven months ended July 31, 1901, at Philippine ports was $5,025,139, an increase over the same period of 1900 of $1,121,333 and over 1899 of $2,169,682.

HOPE OF ARBITRATION.

Pan-American Congress Takes up This and Other Important International Topics.

New York, Oct. 30.—A dispatch from the City of Mexico to the Sun says:

The Pan-American conference met in secret session yesterday morning. Even the secretaries were not admitted. The only difference arose over the question of a quorum and allowing delegations to file votes, although actually absent. The business was not concluded.

The report of the committee on committees will recommend a committee on arbitration and court of arbitration. This will consist of one member of each delegation, and probably will elect its own chairman.

Other committees will vary in number, and probably the chair will appoint the members. The list of subjects includes court of claims, commerce and reciprocity, Pan-American railways, agriculture and industry, reorganization of the bureau of American republics, rules for future conferences, water transportation, international laws, resources and statistics, engraving, and five others. The subjects of uniformity of customs and administrative regulations, port rules and commercial nomenclature belong to the committee on commerce and reciprocity.

The general desire for the suppression of anarchy has resulted in the appointment of a committee to undertake to devise means to that end. The work of this committee will be watched with interest. The scheme contains latent possibilities of trouble that may lead to an outbreak in the conference when least expected.

General hopefulness concerning arbitration is in evidence everywhere. All the delegations seem to expect a decided result.

NAVAL ORDERS.

These naval orders have been issued:

Lieutenant Commander A. Gleaves, from the Alabama, to command the Dolphin.

Lieutenant Commander H. Osterhaus and Lieut. T. D. Parker, to Naval academy, Dec. 1.

Lieut. J. G. Boyle, to Asiatic station.

Ensigns F. O. Branch, H. B. Soule and F. Martin, commissioned.

Assistant Surgeon B. T. Orvis, from the Pensacola to home and wait orders.

Assistant Surgeon U. R. Webb, to the Pensacola.

BIG NAVAL PROGRAMME.

Most Comprehensive Ever Submitted, Will be Presented to the Next Congress.

Boston, Oct. 30.—A special from Washington to the Herald, today says:—What will probably be the most comprehensive naval programme ever submitted to congress will be presented this week to Secretary Long by the board of construction. The programme urged by members of the board includes four first-class battleships of 15,000 tons displacement; four armored cruisers of 14,000 tons displacement of high speed; eighteen gunboats for service in South America and the Philippines, of more than 1200 tons displacement; twelve gunboats of a few hundred tons displacement each, for service in the Philippines.

In addition it is the board's purpose to recommend the construction of auxiliary ships, including colliers, training ships and an engineering repairing vessel. It is unlikely that any torpedo boats or submarine boats will be considered.

In conversation with Representative Fitzgerald, who represents the Brooklyn navy yard district, and Representative Ruppert of New York, President Roosevelt declined to advise the construction of warships in navy yards. He said that Secretary Long holds that warships can be built cheaper and to a better advantage in private shipyards.
